

High style, flexible solution

Hill & Partners demonstrated the ability to create a highly styled exhibit in a linear space for new client Eventide. The challenge was to design a booth that worked for both of Eventide's divisions with different market demographics and logistical specifications; it also needed minimal man-hours to reconfigure between shows.

First time H&P customer Eventide's aim was to have a booth that provided them a modern, high-tech environment. They only needed a 10x20 linear space and wanted show stopping impact and the flexibility to modify the layout of the booth as needed. By using a clean pallet and backlit freestanding workstations the booth was functional without sacrificing image.

Jason Beck, President of Eventide, said after the first show "The show was an overwhelming success, and our new booth is nothing short of amazing. I can't tell you how pleased I am! You and your company have been a pleasure to work with. It is rare that I can describe in broad terms what I am looking for and then get a proposal that is spot on. I was also impressed by how smoothly the setup went – mostly due to Hill and Partners attention to each and every detail”
